

offering for 2023-2024

"The first wedding I ever photographed was that of a childhood friend, back in 2015. Since then, it has become natural for me to approach weddings with a sense of connection and the ability to be moved by the emotions of the day. I try to make people feel at ease in front of a camera, and most importantly, to be able to enjoy themselves throughout the most memorable parts of the day, taking in all of the love, joy and celebration.

I love to capture the intimate exchanges between people at a wedding, such as grandparents passing a handkerchief between them, or a parent blinking back tears and holding the bride's hand a little too tight before letting go at the aisle. These small moments are personal and sacred, and can become some of the most cherished moments of the day."

"Oh wow, wow wow! I cannot tell you enough how over the moon we are with these photos! They are exactly what I was hoping for and better.

Thanks so much for being very relaxed and easy going on the day. It was really nice to work with you (even when things weren't so nice and relaxed from our end - it felt like a wild morning). I'm pretty sure all of my bridesmaids are coming to you for their future weddings! We have had such a big wrap on how great our photos are from our friends and family and are singing your praises to them all. Thanks again Sam. It was lovely working with you!"

— Gabby + Simon, Wallalong House NSW

"Thank you so much again for braving the rain, wind and crazy driving conditions to get to the South Coast, we still can't believe we got smashed with the weather event of the year on our Wedding Day. It's an absolute credit to you as an artist and photographer that you were still able to capture such magical shots with the conditions we had. The special moments that you have captured in your photographs, I will forever treasure. Thank you."
